

CONTENTS

1	Introduction	1
	John A. Lent
Part I East Asian
2	On Transnationality: A History of Negotiations of Self-Identity in Selected Works by Women Comic Artists in Hong Kong	25
	Wendy Siuyi Wong
3	Transnationalism via Political Exile: Chinese Political Cartoonists in Japan	53
	Benjamin Wai-ming Ng
4	Representational and Symbolic Dimensions in the Inter-Asian Developments: Taiwanese Cartoonist Chen Uen's Comic Aesthetics and Legacy in East Asia	73
	Hong-Chi Shiau
5	South Korean Manhwa's Long and Strong Association with Transnationalism	93
	John A. Lent

6	The Transnationalization of Chinese Comic Books: A Case Study	117
	John A. Lent
7	The Embryonic Stage of the Transnationalizing of Mongolian Comics	129
	John A. Lent
Part II Southeast Asian
8	Cambodia's Emerging Digital Hybrids	139
	John Weeks
9	Indonesian Comics: Zig-Zagging Between Indigenesness and Transnationalism	169
	John A. Lent
10	A Historical Overview of Transnationalism in Malaysian Cartoons	187
	Muliyadi Mahamood
11	Wife, Child, Illegal: Static Representations of Filipinos in Japanese Manga	213
	Karl Ian Uy Cheng Chua and Benjamin A. San Jose
12	The Migration of Labor in Cartoons: The Story of Morgan Chua in Singapore and Hong Kong	231
	Cheng Tju Lim
13	Thai Comics' Grappling with Various Shades of Transnationalism	253
	John A. Lent
14	Nationally, Much Less, Transnationally: A Struggle to Grow: Comic Art in Vietnam	271
	Chi Do Huu	