

Contents

Preface	9
Introduction Dona Pursall and Eva Van de Wiele	11
Chapter 1. 'It's the girl!': Comics, Professional Identity, Affection, Nostalgia and Embarrassment Mel Gibson	29
Chapter 2. Looking for Queerness Martha Newbigging	47
Chapter 3. Harrowing Rites of Passage: Refugee Girlhood in the Wake of Syrian Migrant Crisis María Porrás Sánchez	57
Chapter 4. Comics, Caregiving and Crip Time JoAnn Purcell	75
Chapter 5. Discussing Gender in a Communist Comics Magazine: Corinne et Jeannot, 1970 Sylvain Lesage	89
Chapter 6. The Ambivalence of Girlhood and Motherhood in A Girl-and-Her-Dog Comics Series: Margot &amp; Oscar Pluche / Sac à Puces Benoît Glaude	107

Chapter 7. Modernity, Aesthetics and the Active Female Body in Mirabelle (1960–1967)	127
Joan Ormrod
Chapter 8. The Demon Girl of Malayali Comic Strips: The (Im)possibilities of Comic Imagination	149
Aswathy Senan
Chapter 9. Reading Girl- and Womanhood in the Classic Flemish Family Comics Series Jommeke: A Conversation with Katrien De Graeve and Sara De Vuyst	167
Michel De Dobbeleer
Chapter 10. Death and the Maiden: Some Notes Concerning Charlotte Salomon's Leben? oder Theater?	191
Sébastien Conard
Chapter 11. Developing a Style of Her Own: Mophead by Selina Tusitala Marsh (2019)	199
Marine Berthiot
Conclusion	223
Eva Van de Wiele
Afterword: Picturing Girlhood	229
Julia Round
About the Authors	235
Index	239